Commodore's Message

Thanks to all who attended the Baltimore Yacht Club Ball, it was a great turnout and just a fantastic evening.

Many thanks to Wayne and Debbie Penczek for putting it together, Jay and Sandy Puhl for the great decorations Frank and Patti Garey for Marshall and picture coordinator. The hospitality room was well done by Pat Meredith and Barry Scott. And so many more people involved.

Now we kick off our year of Legends and Memories.

The Baltimore Yacht Club has been at its current location since 1939. We enjoy great facilities and a fantastic location at a cost that is below the industry standard for comparable product. The driving force behind that is the character of the membership past and present.

In the coming year, a few times a month, we are going to tell you the story of some of the legendary characters of the BYC and highlight some of our most memorable moments.

You will hear different types of music from different eras through the years.

Themed happy hours and some special events that I think you are going to like. Our entertainment committee is putting together a great year of activities for all. So come on down, join in and let's have a great time on this beautiful Sue Island.

If anyone has any questions, suggestions, problems or concerns, email, call, text or just walk up to me and say hey Mike.

Stephanie and I would like to thank all of you for your support through the years.

Let's have a great year and remember -
THE SUN ALWAYS SHINES ON SUE ISLAND

Pier Winterization Day 2017

Saturday, November 18th
9:00am at Dock Office

A day of work, fun, food and drink
(and the work is the easy part)

Please join your fellow BYC members on Saturday, November 18th at 9:00 a.m., as we bid the boating season farewell, and winterize the piers and bath house for the upcoming winter months. We will drain all the water lines and pump in "THE PINK STUFF".

Besides getting a chance to "turn spigots on and off", which is always exciting, you will be able to socialize with your fellow members, have a good lunch with free draft beer and soda, and possibly have your picture and name appear on a local TV station. (That last part is highly unlikely, but hey, you never know)

PLEASE MEET US AT THE DOCK HOUSE AT 9:00 a.m. FOR COFFEE AND DONUTS

Notice to Slip Holders
Please disconnect and remove all water lines & hoses before November 18th.

Vice Commodore's Message

Well it is official now, the Commodore's Ball is now history and Commodore Mike is off and running. The Facebook videos have been very entertaining so I can't wait to see what is in store for us this year. Speaking of entertaining, how about the job our incoming Fleet Captain did on the Frostbite Cruise! It was a great time and well planned; great job, Len, on your first one. We are all looking forward to a good year. I sure know I am!

With the new year comes new duties and more things to learn. This year my duties focus on membership, and I am looking forward to this. We have already had several interviews with prospective new members, signed up one for sure with another one in the wings. I enjoy meeting new people so this part of my job for the year fits well with my personality. Membership is the key to the success of our club, so this is a big responsibility.

Sandy and I are looking forward to this weekend's Oktoberfest event. This was a great event last year and I am sure John and Cathy have another special day in the works for us. Hope to see everyone there.

Till next month, see you at the club,

V/C Bill Morgan

Middle River Lighted Boat Parade

Rear Commodore's Message

The saddest sign that the boating season is coming to a close; the arrival of the annual BYC Anti-Freeze order notice. The basin is starting to look sparse as the boats are leaving to be put up on the hard for a long winters nap. Soon the basin will have just a small contingent of boats whose owners, like myself, feel that wintering their boat in the water is preferable to land. That said, I have some advice to those stalwarts who choose to remain floating for the harsh months; double up your lines! This past March, I had a line that was less than a year old snap in a late month storm causing damage to my boat. You can confidently bet I'll be doubling up this year.

Ruthie and I are looking forward to our new adventure as Rear Commodore and Lady with the same enthusiasm that we approached Fleet Captain and Fleetress. Fleet Captain was a fun year but I also feel that with the duties associated with the position, that it's a vetting process. I wish the newly minted Fleet Captain Len and Fleetress Barb the very best in what may turn out to be one of the best years of their lives.

Congratulations, you both will have our full support!

The slip committee will be meeting in the next month to get organized for the new year. We put in a new policy over the summer that all trailers kept on the island require an identification sticker located in an unobstructed location. The identification sticker can be picked up at the office. There are many reasons the identification is necessary and everyone's cooperation is appreciated more than you might imagine.

On a personal note, I've received a contract on my house in Pennsylvania and have been busy with all that goes with selling a house. There is still a lot of work to do in the selling and downsizing process so there may be times in the next few weeks that I cannot be at the Club or attend as many events as I have in the past. I hope to have it all wrapped up and be living locally by early December, resuming a high level of participation. I've got to say, I miss the boundless repartee and the comradery. It's a good club and a fun place to be, but only because of all the friends both Ruthie and I have made and the friendships we hope to deepen. I anticipate soon to be back in full swing...

Looking forward to another fun year at BYC, see you on the hill!

Fleet Captain's Message

So, here I am, writing my first report for the Spray as the new Fleet Captain of Baltimore Yacht Club. Little did I ever imagine just a few short years ago that I would be in this position. In fact, I can remember thinking, why would anyone ever want to take on these responsibilities? Let me tell you, it wasn't a quick or easy decision.

Last year, I was approached and asked if I would want to be Fleet Captain and I seriously considered it. I considered it because, immediately upon joining BYC, Barb and I were genuinely impressed by the club as a whole. The beautiful grounds, the fantastic clubhouse, the pool, the restaurant, the basin, the view from atop the hill, all these things were awesome. But best of all, we found the other members of BYC to be very welcoming. We joined in September after visiting over Labor Day Weekend of that first year and have never regretted the decision to move to beautiful Sue Island.

Barb and I immediately got involved. That first October, which is one of the busiest months at the club, was full of events: Fall Festival, the Halloween Party, the Commodore's Ball. Before you knew it, we were being treated as if we had been here for years. Now, for any new members out there, I have to say, you can't just wait down on your boat for people to come to you. It doesn't work that way. You have to participate and be involved. Come to the Member meetings, introduce yourself to people, have dinner at the club house, attend some functions. Once other members see that you care about the club as much as they do, they will treat you like a long, lost friend.

As I pondered the offer to be Fleet Captain, it was very obvious to me that I didn't really know how the club functioned. Barb and I had never belonged to a yacht club before. And even though BYC is not known as a "working club," there is still a lot of volunteer work that makes the whole organization run as well as it does. I was encouraged to run for the Board of Governors and learn what goes on behind the scenes.

So for the past year, I served on the Board and got an education as to how things are done. It also opened my eyes to the fact that no matter what position you may hold at the club, you're not alone. There are so many people that are willing to offer their assistance and advice and jump in to help. And so, when asked to be Fleet Captain again this year, it made my decision a lot easier. I truly believe that you get out of an organization exactly what you are willing to put into it. And to that point, I know Barb and I have made the right choice. After just a month into this position, we have been inundated with offers for help and guidance.

So far, the Frostbite Cruise, the Fall Festival and the Commodore's Ball are already behind us. Each of them a great success and a whole lot of just plain fun. What more could you ask for? Now the planning for next year begins in earnest. There is entertainment to hire, cruises to book, parties to plan. I have reached out to several members already to sit on the Entertainment Committee so I can get some input on what you want for next year. But please don't think that you can't approach me and recommend something. In fact, I welcome your suggestions. Our goal is to make Baltimore Yacht Club the most engaging, entertaining, desirable club on the Chesapeake Bay.

To wrap up, I would encourage any of the new members to throw yourself into the mix. You don't have to run for office or anything like that. There is always help needed with decorations, pier repair day, preparing props for the various events, being a chair person for an event, etc. I think you'll find it very rewarding just as Barb and I are finding. If you're not sure how to get started, I'd be happy to have drinks with you or have you join Barb and me for dinner at the club. There's an adage around the club that goes, "We're a yacht club, a social club, not just a marina."

In keeping with our new Commodore's theme, Legends and Memories, we will sincerely strive to make every event at Baltimore Yacht Club an unforgettable one in the coming year!

Mates President's Message

First and foremost I want to thank Sharon Schepers, Pat Hodges & Nora Rueter for co-chairing the Mates Installation Brunch, the decorations and flowers were awesome and the brunch was delicious. Thank you to all the Mates and their guests and past & present bridge officers who attended as well, we appreciate your support. I would also like to congratulate the new Mate Officers for 2017-2018: Debbie Penczek – VP, Sharon Schepers – Recording Secretary, Pat Hodges – Financial Secretary, Sarah Tenneyson – Corresponding Secretary, Sylvia Terry – Treasurer and Members At Large – Kathy Kammann, Colleen Smart & Mary Monte, thank you all for stepping up.

As you look around the clubhouse you will see some new additions regarding the Mates. The bulletin board outside the ladies room will let you know just what the Mates are up to in and around our community especially throughout the holiday season. We will also post flyers for our upcoming events throughout the year, so please take a minute to stop and check it out. In addition, there will be a group photo of the 2017-2018 Mates Officers hung on the wall between the windows overlooking the hill/pool. Stop by and check out our smiling faces.

The Mates will be hosting the 1st Annual Fall Bazaar, Saturday Nov 18th from 9am-1pm in the Island View Room. There will be handmade holiday crafts available for purchase as well as vendors, come and start your Christmas shopping early.

Huge congratulations to Mate Joe Hellner for being awarded the Carl Thau Memorial Award at the Commodore's Ball, well deserved!

Finally, I would like to personally invite all Mates of BYC to join us during our monthly meeting, held the same time as the General Meeting the first Friday of the month at 8:30pm in the Island View Room, our door is always open to new members and new ideas. Come see what the Mates are doing in our community and for the better of BYC.

A & B Pier Report

Happy Fall

John & Kathy Schlee just returned from a 12 day trip to Europe primarily visiting ancestry villages in Germany for parts of both of their families. They met relatives that they did not know existed and they saw actual locations and houses where some of their forbearers were born, lived, worked, or died. They ended with 3 nights of sightseeing in Prague, just to take in its beauty and history.

Please send me any news you wish to share to lori.ostendarp@morganstanley.com

Trim the Clubhouse

Saturday November 25, 2017

9:30 AM until ?

Join us as we "Trim the Clubhouse" for the Holidays. We will be hanging up lights, standing up the trees, and lighting up the windows to decorate for the holiday season.

A complimentary lunch will be provided for those who help decorate.

So put on your little elf hats and pointy elf shoes, and come on out to help bring in the season together.

Hope to see you all there!

C Pier Report

I am writing this in a hurry because the deadline is within hours. I noticed there was no C Pier article in the last Spray edition, and I know I wrote one so I thought I would just find it, update it, and send it in. However, I have not been able to find it at home or at work so here goes.

Thanks to everybody who has sent get well cards for my mother-in-law, Agatha Rice. For anybody who does not know, Agatha fell down some stairs and broke her right ankle badly as well as a bone in her left foot. The surgery that was done mid-September, immediately after the fall, missed at least one break in the back of her ankle so she just recently underwent a second surgery. This one seems to have gone well, and she is looking forward to getting out of the rehab facility and heading home.

Some C Pier boat woes continue. Lee and Lisa Madairy's Blue Skies was still up on land last weekend awaiting repair; hopefully, everything will get done in time for some fun at the Club and then winterization. Boyd's Nest has not had any luck in getting a second engine and probably won't be back in her slip until next season. P/C Jim did a masterful job fixing Meant to Be's engine mounts and found a gasket leak while doing that big job. A little 10 minute leak repair became a couple of weekends without an exhaust manifold on one engine. Now that all of the Club cruises and everything is finished for this year, the boat is all back together and seems to be running fine. Knocking wood AND throwing salt over my shoulder as I write that.

Victor and Melanie DeSantis are really enjoying their new boat Fair Dinkum and have already forgotten how they managed to find space for five people on their old boat. Pat and Gil Cooke have sold their boat, and I have not heard whether there is any plan to get another. If not, they will be missed, but a prime slip on C Pier will be on the board on Slip Assignment Day.

Tom Strobel purchased a runabout because sometimes you just need a little boat to go where it is difficult to take your big boat. Some might question the wisdom of this purchase made while Robin has been away for an extended length of time, visiting her mother in Florida.

The Paluszynski's and Boyd's made their annual trip together to Hershey Park. It is even more fun when the kids can stay later and drive themselves home after the parents have had enough of roller coasters, bumper cars, etc.

I am looking forward to seeing everybody at the Oktoberfest and then the Bull and Oyster Roast.

If you have any news, remember to e-mail it to Paluszynski@comcast.net.

Holding Corporation

The Holding Corporation acts as the Landlord to Baltimore Yacht Club. The property, buildings and all major equipment is owned by the Holding Corporation. The Club pays rent to the Holding Corporation. In return, the Holding Corporation pays all taxes, insurance and major repairs.

All "Regular Members" are required to purchase stock when joining the Club, and only regular stock holding members, in good standing, can vote on Holding Corporation issues.

The Annual Holding Corporation meeting for stock holders is the third (3rd) Monday of May. The election of the Holding Corporations Board of Directors, for the ensuing year, takes place during this meeting.

A majority of stock holders entitled to vote must be represented in person, or via proxy, to constitute a quorum.

The Holding Corporation elects its officers consisting of President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer. They, along with the five Directors voted upon by the stock holders, constitute the entire Holding Corporation. If there is a vacancy during the year, the Holding Corporation will appoint a replacement.

The Club members, through the Club Board of Directors, and a vote of the membership, can make recommendations for the major improvements and expenditures. The Holding Corporation will pursue plans, specifications, permits and cost for such, and supervise the execution and completion of such projects.

Honorary Commodore

The Honorary Commodore is a position that is appointed by the elected Commodore, and is announced at the Commodore's Ball. The tradition of appointing an Honorary Commodore began in 1969.

The By-Laws provide for flags for the six Flag Officers, the Fleet Surgeon, The Fleet Chaplain and the Honorary Commodore. The By-Laws, however, do not specify duties for the Honorary Commodore. His role depends upon the wishes of the elected Commodore. Most generally, the Honorary Commodore serves as an Aide-de-Camp, assisting the Commodore in his social and ceremonial duties. The Honorary Commodore traditionally chairs the Membership Cocktail Party, and the Fleet Review Cruise/Dinner, which honors the outgoing Commodore.

Honorary Commodores have been chosen for their advice, as a recognition of their efforts for the Club, as a recognition of their efforts in assisting the Commodore during his full 4 years in office, as well as the Commodore's personal reasons.

The Honorary Commodore is not normally introduced as an officer during ceremonies.

D-Pier Report

Ahoy There! D Pier is getting quiet as boats leave for land storage or settle in for their winter naps.

However, not all D Pier boats are hibernating. As of this article submission, the Stern's Sea Ray, JOINT VENTURE (D-8), was south of Norfolk and heading toward Beaufort, NC after a stop at Coinjock, NC. Their ultimate destination is Treasure Cay, Abaco, Bahamas, where they have taken their boat 11 of the past 12 years. As a consequence, they know the wonderful ICW ports well and are happy to share what they have learned for those of us thinking of long distance boat travel. Hopefully, Ron will keep us posted about their adventures as those of us stuck in Maryland watch the snow fall.

Along with the Lillys (D Pier residents for many years), Chris and Christine Minnich also traveled a long way as they enjoyed a visit to Europe, featuring stops in Prague, Nuremberg, and Munich. As of this article submission, they were checking out a monastery (could Chaplain Chris be thinking of donning monk's robes?) near the Danube River in Krems, Austria, with their next stop in Budapest, Hungary.

As for D Pier boats settling in for the winter, a certain experienced Captain, known for meticulous checklists and a cautious approach, found a way to make the process exciting. Deciding on a quick run out to warm up the engines for a pre-winterization oil change, he confidently put em both in forward expecting a smooth shipshape glide into the fairway, only to hear the 1st Mate yell in that way that tells a captain doom is coming right soon. Her cry of "Stop, Stop" was followed shortly thereafter by loud cracking and crunching as his power pedestal did its best to come along for the ride. What was left of the pedestal was a sorry sight, leaving the quickly gathered crowd of Wharf Rats to agree this captain should have hooked up a longer power cord. So for slipping up by slipping out of his slip while pulling power the hard way, a D Pier Salute and Skunk Flag nomination goes to Captain "Power Tower" John Gephart.

The D Pier Quote of the Month goes to Captain Gephart when he was heard to say, "I never thought I would reach Social Security age and, if I did, there would be nothing left when I got there. It turns out my very first Social Security check will be going to Baltimore YC for a nice shiny new power pedestal."

A D Pier Congratulations and Best Wishes to Commodore Mike Bruns and 1st Lady Stephanie! Following P/C's Penczek, Hurd, and Gasior, Mike marks the fourth year in a row that D Pier has been home to the BYC Commodore. Overall, a check of the pier shows 13 P/C boats in residence (including P/FL Joanne Woodward), whose captains and crews all continue to be very active and supportive of the club.

As those who attended can attest, the 2017 Commodores Ball provided our new Officers and Board with an outstanding launch to their year leading the club. Well Done to P/C Wayne and P/FL Debbie for their meticulous effort to make the Ball a smooth and successful occasion. A highlight of the Ball for Commodore Mike was the attendance of three BYC past princesses, Mom Marlene (Schlatzer) Schepers (1953), Niece Veronica (2003) and Daughter Amanda (2005).

Adventure by any means is a common theme among boaters so it is not surprising to see them also owning "land yachts".

Congratulations to the Kaelbers, who will be adding a 28 foot Airstream trailer to their "fleet". Similarly bitten by the RV bug, Kathy and I will be bringing back a 25 foot Winnebago Navion from Dallas, TX in mid-November.

Finally, on a personal note, to my total surprise, it was my pleasure and honor to accept the 2017 Karl Thau Memorial Award at the Commodores Ball. I wish to express my deepest thanks and appreciation for this award. Over the years, I have enjoyed getting involved and helping the Club and I encourage all BYC members and mates to do the same. You will make friends and memories to last a lifetime.

Joe Hellner

What is wrong in this picture? P/FL Debbie Penczek and the P/C & P/FL Tennysons react with shock and concern.

There has been a lot of activity this last month, what with the Frostbite Cruise, Fall Festival, the Commodore's Ball, and getting ready for the Oktoberfest event. The boats have been leaving the basin in droves, seeking the safety and security of dry land and bringing big smiles to the local marina owners.

The Frostbite went smoothly. It was nice to see so many BYC members filling the big chair at the Harbor Shack...proving once again that all it takes to amuse us is a slip for the night and the world's largest Adirondack chair.

The Fall Festival was a sight to behold; pumpkins, hay rides, and such. Everybody behaved. No one "fell off the wagon". The kids (both big and small) had fun.

The Commodore's Ball was a very nice affair. It seems we did nothing that will prevent us from being invited back; how tame we've become. However, I did notice the Il Vaino captain was making the rounds at the ball. Every time I turned around he was getting a picture with another beautiful BYC gal. Lock up your women. This guy is handy, handsome, and makes his own wine...a true triple-threat.

The new Commodore is in and the newest P/C is out. You just couldn't wipe the grins off Ken and Liz's faces. Those two get a well-deserved rest. Luckily, they're young and will recover quickly. Thanks for a stellar year.

And what about the new Commodore and Fleetie? I gotta' say I'm loving the Facebook videos promoting the club events. The teaser video for the Oktoberfest was so funny I could have passed a kidney stone. Come on, the Fleetie lapses into an Italian accent. Get outta' here. I don't care who you are, that's some funny stuff. On second thought though, maybe the Fleetie's multiple language skills explain a lot of recent behavior. I'll have to check Amazon to see if we can get him a depth finder with the water depth in German, Italian, AND English. I guess it's easy enough to confuse two meters for two feet, until you hear that terrible gnash of the props augering in...Oh fudge.

It was reported that Package Deal's captain managed to just finish winterizing his big boat, but didn't get to his runabout. He proceeded straight home and broke his leg in the back yard. Man, some guys will do anything to avoid taking all their boats out of the water at the end of the season. Get better soon Pal. We'd all hate to see the Budweiser sales take a nosedive at the bar.

Well, that's about all I dare write. I'm working on my third single-malt. None of us really wants to know what happens after three.

Keep your lines tight,

Kilroy

October sure was a time for changes! Yes we all know we have elected new officers for both the Bridge and the Mates, and we have the change of the leaves and the temperature. But the real changes have been all our many outfits of course!

Starting with the officers new threads at the members meeting and election of the board. Very dashing. Who doesn't love a man in a uniform. I've heard some officers only signed up to be an officer because of the benefits the uniform can offer. I'll have to ask a P/C and report back to you. While all that was going on, "down-under" at the mates meeting, the mates were dressed in pink to honor the outgoing president Joyce Gray. Then many of the ladies and gents dug deep in their boat closets to get all spiffy and pinned on corsages to celebrate the new president, Lori Ostendarp and the officers of the Mates at the Mates Brunch. Thank you officers for all you do.

The Fall Festival had some of coolest change of attire and maybe a little of our character too. There were Mermaids, Zombies, Dorothy, and Ninjas to name a few. I heard our commodore got Chewy to come during his break while shooting the new Star Wars flick. It looked like everyone of all ages had fun.

Change in maybe the greatest form was the transformation of some members from their, I'll call them comfy clothes, to the sparkly, shiny starched, and pressed formal Commodore Ball clothes. Wow! The makeup, the shoes, the nails, the spanks; and that was just the Commodore. The First Lady put on her finest too in a beautiful strapless ball gown. All who attended looked wonderful, at least at the start of the night. The way I heard it by 3 A.M. in the hospitality room many of the guests turned back into pumpkins.

Rumor has it that October was prime time for a costume malfunction of sorts for another officer significant other. This event involved a BYC group attending other club's ball trying to decide how to extricate mashed potatoes from shall we say; well cleavage really. Ingenious methods were suggested by onlookers, but eventually it was considered "take-out". Where does the gravy go? I wonder!

What would October be without dirndls and lederhosen? Yes BYC has brought back your chance to change into a German barmaid or yodeler costume. The October Fest has returned even better. Everyone is German at BYC during October Fest.

Remember:

Self-confidence is the best outfit, rock it and own it!

Fleet Chaplain's Message

It looks like it is time to winterize the boats and get ready for Thanksgiving. As the holidays work their way into our plans, we must please ourselves and not be pressured into "forced family fun."

A LESSON FROM Proverbs 29, verse 25

"Fearing people is a dangerous trap, but trusting the Lord, means safety"

In life, there will always be people who try to squeeze you into their mold; people who try to pressure you into being who they want you to be. They may be good people. They may mean well. But the problem is, that they are not your creator. They didn't breathe life into you. They didn't equip you, empower you or anoint you; almighty God did!

If you're going to be all that God created you to be, you can't focus on what everybody else thinks. If you change with every criticism, trying to win the satisfaction of others, then you'll go thru life being manipulated and letting people squeeze you into their box! You have to realize that you can't keep every person happy. You can't make everyone like you. You'll never win over all of your critics.

Instead of trying to please people, when you get up in the morning, ask the Lord to search your heart. Ask Him if your ways are pleasing Him. Stay focused on your goals. If people don't understand you, that's okay! If you lose some friends because you wouldn't let them control you, they weren't true friends anyway. You don't need others approval, you only need Almighty God's approval. Keep your heart and mind submitted to the Lord and be free from "people pleasing."

REMEMBER: Only I can change my life. No one can do it for me.

Let us pray:

*Heavenly Father, I come humbly to You today. I invite You to search my heart and mind. Let my ways be pleasing to You. Let my thoughts be Your thoughts. Thank You for setting me free from pleasing people.
In the Lords holy name.*

AMEN

Manager's Message

After a busy summer season, we welcome fall and the holiday season. Over this past month we have been working to prepare and develop the holiday events. As I look back over the past years and scroll through the old flyers and pictures, I am reminded about the memories that are made at this Club every day, and especially during the holiday season. It couldn't be any more fitting to have this year's theme be "Legends and Memories", as this Club has many. I am looking forward to the reminiscing and storytelling that this year will be filled with.

In November our Club hosts the annual Bull & Oyster Roast along with our Thanksgiving Dinner. Chef Zach's buffets have been a hit, so this year we are changing the Thanksgiving Dinner to a buffet style. We look forward to seeing our Club family on Thanksgiving and I would encourage the members to bring their families down to join us, and leave the cooking and cleaning to us. You will also start seeing the Christmas holiday events flyers start going out. This year we have added a dinner for the Middle River Lighted Boat Parade on Saturday, November 25th. We are looking forward to having the boats pass by Baltimore Yacht Club and hope you can join us for this Middle River tradition.

The team is getting ready for the winter months and we have a lot of projects scheduled for completion between now and the start of the 2018 season. While the island sees a slowdown in traffic, the team will be working hard to clean, repair, and prepare for the season ahead. If you have any suggestions for projects or repairs, please pass them along to me or the committee chairs.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Scott Lockwood
General Manager

Sick and Welfare

Get well wishes go out to our Fleet Surgeon Barry Cohan & Joyce Gray who are currently fighting agent cancer.

Sue Bussey is at Lorien Health Systems, room 213 B, in Belcamp. Visitors are welcome from 10am to 8pm daily.

Please keep both of them and their families in your thoughts and prayers.

Personal Note from George Coder

I want to thank all my BYC friends who surprised me At the clubhouse Sunday afternoon to help celebrate my 80th. A special thanks to my family who engineered the event without my knowing. Those that were there to share the cake and Champagne know I was really overwhelmed! Thank you all.
